George B. Cutten.

Hamilton, N. Y.

Degory Priest came over in the Mayflower in 1620.

He married Mrs. Sarah Allerton Vincent, a sister of Isaac Allerton. His number in the "Mayflower Index", published in 1932, is 27209.

Degory Priest (27209) married Sarah Vincent; their daughter Mary Priest (27211) married Phineas Pratt;
their son Joseph Pratt (27053) married Dorcas Folger;
their daughter Mary Pratt (27071) married Joseph Edmunds; their daughter Sarah Edmunds married David Cutting.

David Cutting and his family emigrated to Nova Scotia in 1759.

For the subsequent genealogy see "Genealogy of the Cutten Family of Nova Scotia." pp. 4 ff.

GENEALOGY
CUTTEN FAMILY OF NOVA SCOTIA
BY
GEORGE BARTON CUTTEN

1598226

FOREWORD

I have been working on the Genealogy of the Cutten Family for over forty years. I became interested when as a boy I listened to stories of the Cuttens from "Uncle" Amos Page as he worked at his bench as a silversmith. Recently I have taken this up, trying to complete it. It is not yet completed. It seemed to me, however, that it should be put in some permanent form so as not to be lost.

I am indebted to Dr. A. W. H. Eaton, of Boston, for the New England Ancestry from 1634, when Richard Cutting¹, settled in Boston from Ipswich, England, to the time when David Cutting⁴ went with his two sons to Nova Scotia in 1760. I am indebted to Mr. Hector Cutten, of Lower Truro, for furnishing the names of the descendants of 1760. Numerous persons have willingly answered questions about their own families. Others have refused to answer letters or to give any information. I suppose the latter class will be the ones who will complain about the omissions and inaccuracies.

During the process of obtaining this information, I have gathered considerable material, which, with this genealogy, could be used as a basis for a history of the family; if any person has the inclination, the time, and the money to devote to this purpose, I shall be glad to pass over this material to him.

The time and expense of gathering and publishing this material, I gladly contribute to provide a permanent record of the family to which I have always considered it an honor to belong.

GEORGE BARTON CUTTEN

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. The numbers placed after the names of the descendants of each family serve to differentiate those of the same name to indicate the generation to which each belongs, and to differentiate the descendant from the spouse.

2. A genealogy of the Edmunds family from William Edmunds¹ to Sarah Edmunds⁴, who married David Cutting⁴, is given on page four. Joseph Scott, who married Mary Edmunds⁴, moved to Nova Scotia in company with David Cutting⁴.

In April, 1634, Richard Cutting left England in the "Elizabeth", sailing from Ipswich for Boston. He was then a youth of eleven years and under the care of Henry Kimball. On the boat, as a passenger, was William Cutting, aged 26, who was also from Ipswich; and on the same day the ship "Francis" sailed from the same port, with John Cutting as master. Both boats reached Boston without loss of any passengers. We do not know that Richard Cutting was any relation to either William or John. Richard settled in Watertown, Mass., where he worked as a wheelwright, and was admitted freeman April 18, 1690. He died March 21, 1695-6 "an aged man." His will dated June 24, 1694, mentions two sons and two daughters living, and two grand-children, children of John and Sarah. Inventory £185.17.0.

The family for two or three generations lived in and around Boston, and particularly Watertown. David Cutting¹, was born in Killingly, Conn., baptized July 20, 1717, by Rev. Mr. Dwight. His children were all born in Oxford, Mass., but recorded in Dudley.

David Cutting was on a muster roll of a detachment of men from Capt. Joshua Heeley's Company of Dudley, Mass., Colonel John Chandler, Jr., that marched on the alarm for the relief of Fort William Henry, from Dudley to Sheffield, 105 miles. He was a private. He entered service Aug. 10, and left Aug. 28, 1757. He received £2.6 8. The family tradition that he fought as a private at Louisburg in 1758 is probably correct.

In 1759, after the expulsion of the Acadians, an application for a grant from 52 persons from Massachusetts Bay Colony was made to Governor Lawrence of Nova Scotia. Of the original 52 persons who made this application ten afterwards settled in Onslow. Among these were David Cutting and his son John who came with the first settlers. David Cutting received a grant of 1000 acres of land, and John, 750. His home was used as an inn by travellers.

A Warrant for calling a meeting to choose certain committees and to do other business was directed to Mr. Ephm. Hayward, one of the proprietors of Onslow, and signed by Chas. Morris, Justice of the Peace. The Warrant ends as follows: "These are Therefore to Desiar and Impower you to call a meeting of the said Proprietors to meet at the house of Mr. David Cutten, in holder, in Onslow, on Monday, the 14th day of September instant, at nine of the Clock in the forenoon."

In the record of the meeting, we find the following:

"Onslow, Sept. 14, 1761. At a meeting of the proprietors of Onslow, pursuant to a warrant granted by Charles Morris, Esq., for calling of said meeting, meatt according to said Warning and Voted:

First, David Cutting, Maddrator.

9ly. David Cutten, chairman of a Committee to Devide and Lay out the Mashess and Plow land and the first Devision of the un Improved Lands.

David Cutting, Modderator."

Notice that in the above documents the name is spelled both "Cutting" and "Cutten" twice. On August 7th, 1761 the male free-holders of Onslow numbered fifty and were entitled under the order-in-council to send two representatives to the general assembly. Onslow returned Mr. Neville Wolsley, of Halifax, and David Cutten, a resident. It appears by the Journal of the House under date of April 3, 1764, "That no attendance had ever been given by Mr. Cutten and that Mr. Wolsley had left Nova Scotia". "This statement of fact regarding Mr. Cutten's legislative career is doubtless correct, though it does not accord with the belief entertained by his descendants, who consider him the first member from Cobequid, and speak of his having walked to the winter session of the House on snow shoes, with a musket on his shoulder. If Mr. Cutten did not act, it was because he considered that his colleague, Mr. Wolsley, who resided at Halifax, was well qualified to look after the interests of the special constitutents of both—the people of Onslow; and he did not deem it necessary that the town should be at the expense of sending him to the Assembly."

A Town Meeting held "Pursuant to a Warrant Dated, October, 1762 meet and Voted as folloeth:—

Daniel Knolton, Moderator.

Voted that Liett. David Cutten have four shillings a Day so long as he waits on the General Court at Halifax as our Representative, and The same to be Raised on the Rights of the proprietors proportionable as soon as he brings his accounmpt attested.

Daniel Knolton, Moderator.

Ephm. Hayward, Proprs. Clerk."

After the death of his wife, David Cutting returned to Massachusetts, leaving at least his two sons, John and William in Nova Scotia, where they both died, and their descendants lived. In Dudley, Mass., March 4, 1770, David Cutten married Dorothy Sabin. Before his death he deeded the whole of his Onslow land to his son William, according to a copy of the deed. There is also a copy of a quit claim deed from John to William.

In a census of the Township of Onslow in 1770, compiled by Richard Upham, Esq., giving the number of persons in each family, the only Cutten mentioned is "John Cutten, 1 person."

On March 26, 1744, William Edmunds⁴, of Dudley, sold land in Oxford to David Cutten⁴, of Dudley.
